For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of b'ood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself
Mr. PEYTON,
and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

BULL AND FROG.

'Tis said 'mong nations here below—
(The truth of which to fully know
I am not, being in the dark, able) [ble:
The French for temperance are remarka-
Temperance in eating and in drinking;
Not in their deeds or modes of thinking.
A given quantity of meat,
Both in land service and a fleet,
From mode of cooking will content
Of French a hungry regiment—
For which of English or of Yankee
A regiment would scarce say 'thank ye.'
An ox in soup will go the further
To nerve for battle and for murther,
Than if the same you roast or fry—
As regiment to company. [frisky,
So pure French wine will make more
Than English beer or Yankee whiskey;
Especially as those for thirst
Alone will drink—but these for gust.

Whether my statement mathematic
Be true, or, like my verse, erratic,
Others, more skill'd than I, may note:
I'll tell a simple anecdote.

An Englishman, the story goes,
Call'd on a Frenchman once to close
A piece of business: when completed,
The latter ask'd if he'd be treated
To brandy, wine, punch or liqueur—
"I'll look, (says Bull) I'm not quite sure;"
Drawing his watch—"No sir, I think
"'Tis not my usual time to drink;
"When that arrives, I'll call him ass
"Who says I ever baulk my glass."
—"Mon Dieu! (cries Frog) why what a sort
"Of watch you got! me give you for't—
"Just such a price you please apply;
"'Twill tell me when I shall be DRY."

The editor of the Village Record, in noticing the execution of John H. Craig, at Chester, Penn. on the 6th instant, for the murder of Edward Hunter, Esq. concludes with the following very appropriate moral remarks:

"It is a truth worthy of particular observation, that those who are about to perpetrate crimes, seem to be actuated by a cunning equal to their malignity. The spirit of Satan seems to accompany them—to prompt them to the deed, and to suggest the means of its execution: and yet, the moment it is effected, all their cunning, and even common sense, forsakes them; and the Evil Spirit abandons them to their fate. Haunted by the horrors of a guilty conscience—stricken by the curse of God with mental blindness, they expose themselves, even by unreflecting confessions, or by other means, to certain detection and punishment.—These considerations, universally true, and so fully exemplified in the case of Craig, ought every where to be inculcated, and should serve as a constant warning to those whose malign passions stimulate them to violate the laws. The murderer cannot escape—not one in a thousand but what, sooner or later, comes to a violent and ignominious death."

At Leeds Borough Sessions, as soon as the court had pronounced the sentence of transportation for seven years upon James Urtley—the prisoner, with hardened assurance, exclaimed—"D—n you, I wish you may all sit there till I come back again!" On which the court, in addition to his other sentence, directed that he should be privately flogged. This is like the case of a fellow in Dublin, who had committed some trifling offence, for which the judge pronounced the following sentence:—

Judge—"The sentence of the court is, that you shall be flogged from the Bank to the Quay."

Prisoner—"Thank you, my lord, you have done your worst"

Judge—"AND BACK AGAIN!"

[London paper.

It being proved on a trial at Guildhall, that a man's name was really Inch, who pretended that it was Linch—"I see," said the judge, "the old proverb is verified in this man, who being allowed an Inch, has taken an L." [ib.d.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Savannah, June 6.

Arrived at Tybee yesterday morning, the United States' schooner, Lynx, lieut. com. John R. Madison, capt. John H. Elton, formerly of the Saranac, came passenger in her. We are happy to see among us this gallant and distinguished officer. We understand capt. E. had some time since requested to be released from his command, which has been granted, and he is now on his way to the north. Capt. Dallas, who went through this city a week since, had arrived at St. Mary's, and has taken command of the Saranac. We presume it is the intention of capt. Elton, to resume the command in the course of a few months—he has had some active and arduous duties to perform, and we wish him a speedy restoration to health.

The United States' ship John Adams, commodore Henley, was to sail for New-York in a few days, to change her armament. Capt. Dallas with the Saranac, Prometheus, Finch, Lynx, Madison, and Gun-vessel 168, remain on the station.

An affray took place at St. Mary's in which several of the officers of the army and navy, with a number of citizens were engaged. Col. Hopkins and several others were wounded. We have not learnt the origin of the dispute, neither do we know any of the particulars of this unpleasant rencontre.

RESCUE OF CAPTAIN GERRISH.

A letter from Batavia to a gentleman in Newburyport, dated Feb. 20, says:

"At the request of captain Joseph Gerrish, of the brig Retrieve, of Newburyport, we address a few lines, to prevent any uneasiness to you or his other friends in America, that might be felt, should a report reach you of his having been murdered by the natives of Java.—Some days ago there was such a report at Batavia, and it was undoubtedly credited; but we can assure you to the contrary, as we have received two letters from captain G. mentioning his most providential and unexpected escape.

"The particulars are briefly these:—Captain Gerrish entered into an agreement with us for a cargo of sugars, to be delivered at the port of Samarang, whither he proceeded with his vessel to take it in—when her loading was accomplished, in consequence of a delay regarding the necessary papers for his outclearance, captain G. came up to Batavia, by land, in company with one of our firm, and left Batavia again almost immediately, to return to his vessel at Samarang. On his way down he fell in with a band of some hundreds of insurgents, by whom he was taken prisoner, and kept for several days, suffering great hardships; however, he was rescued by a party of Dutch troops, and reached his vessel in safety. He dated his last letter on the 10th, and was to sail with a full cargo on the 11th."

From the Salem Gazette, June 2.

Captain Jacob Lee, from Surinam, has given us the following statement of injurious treatment to one of our seafaring citizens, for which we hope he will meet with redress.

"Left at Surinam, Luther Mildrum, master of the brig Henry, of Hartford, from Buenos Ayres. He had landed from said brig in the river Mariwena, taking it to be Surinam, and was there made a prisoner by an officer commanding a Dutch post, and transported thro' the country by a military escort to Surinam, at which place he was put into prison with two of his sailors. The reason of his being made a prisoner was, that one of his crew got in liquor, and informed the officer that he had false papers, and had rogues on board; on which he immediately showed his papers to the officer, who could read and talk English as well as he could; but notwithstanding all he could say, he persisted in detaining him a prisoner, and sent him to Paramaribo, where he had a trial, and was turned into the street, destitute of money or clothing, except what he stood in. But the government never saw his papers, nor even asked for them. The brig Henry is not to be heard from on the coast; she has departed, God only knows where, destitute of papers on board, &c.

New-York, June 23.

LOSS OF THE SOLON.

The valuable ship Solon, a regular London trader belonging to this port, was struck with lightning and set on fire, on the evening of the 27th of April. On the following day, at 11 o'clock, and before the flames which were raging in the hold had burst through the deck, the captain, crew and passengers, 38 in number, were most providentially rescued from their perilous situation, by the brig Poacher, from Liverpool. The circumstances of the case, are more fully detailed in the following article from the Boston Daily Advertiser of Thursday.

Arrived, the brig Poacher, Malcolm, 65 days from Liverpool, and 34 from Fayal. April 28th, fell in with the brig Solon, Stoddard, from London to New York, with hemp, dry goods, copper, &c. which had been struck with lightning the evening previous, and set on fire, in lat. 40, 15, long. 27, then 20 days out. Took off the passengers, 27 in number, and crew, amounting in all to 38, and shortly after the fire burst through the deck, and we saw the masts go over the side. The following account of the disaster, furnished by a passenger, and politely handed us from the Exchange Coffee House, agrees with the minutes made on the log-book, as recorded by Mr. Topliff, with which we have also been favored:—"On the 27th of April, at 9 o'clock, P. M. a body of lightning struck the ship, attended by a singular explosion, disordering every thing in its passage down the main-mast. The captain, with many others on the upper deck, were at once knocked down; on the middle deck the same effect was produced—yet in their case no lives were lost. Immediately columns of smoke rose from the hold through every aperture: and such was the strength of the devouring matter, that it must, at the same instant, have set fire to every part of the cargo which was liable to take fire from it. In this emergency, the thickness of the smoke became such as to prevent further respiration. All rushed on deck in confusion—the lightning still bursting forth, so that the whole sea appeared like a furnace.

Here was one of the most distressing scenes that ever was witnessed—the most part of the people half naked, and it being impracticable to return for their clothes, and with no more of the necessaries of human life than would be required for about two days subsistence.—All that now remained to our hopes was to keep the fire under by blocking up every aperture where the smoke issued—and should this be effected, we were fearful a few hours might close the scene.—The boats could not take two-thirds our number, and the tremendous sea also forbid the trial; the hope of falling in with a vessel was precarious, yet the hand of a gracious providence was over our heads. In this state we continued till next day about 11 o'clock, when the brig Poacher, captain Malcolm, appeared in sight, and ultimately saved our lives. The last boat had scarce reached the brig, when the Solon's mizzenmast fell by the board, and the mainmast followed in about half an hour after. At this time the flames burst out in every direction, so that Providence had sent this vessel to our aid in a most critical moment. So great a number of persons being added to those already on board the Poacher, she having before seven passengers, it became necessary to make for the Western Islands for water and provisions. We arrived at Fayal on the first of May, where every attention was paid to our wants by Mr. Dabney the American consul, and other persons, particularly Messrs. Searle, Parker, Dayley and Correa."

Three of the Solon's passengers here went on board the ship Norfolk, for London; seven of the passengers and crew on board the schr. Prudence, Leggett, for Halifax; and the remainder have arrived at this port in the Poacher. The persons who have arrived here express the warmest gratitude for the attention of captain Malcolm, and of the officers, passengers and crew of the Poacher.

Since the above was in type, we have been favored by Messrs. Fish & Grinnell owners of the Solon, with the following, as furnished by captain Stoddard, who arrived in town this morning:

Cabin Passengers.—John Brain, William Hope, Mrs. Page, and Miss Page; arrived at Boston. Joseph Page, Thomas Stiles, and Shadrack Pierce; gone to London from Fayal, in the ship Norfolk.

Steerage Passengers.—Samuel Grubb, Samuel Grubb, jun. Wm. Whiprey, Joseph Samuel, John Jackson, John Phillips, Thos. Murphy, Wm. Sargent, Wm. Leigh, Mr. Cummings; arrived at Boston. Thomas M'Carty, John M'Carty, Thomas Kating, wife and child; gone to Halifax in schr. Prudence, from Fayal.

The officers and crew arrived at Boston, except James Franks, (who died on the passage from Fayal) and Mr. Patterson, who went to Halifax.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Extract of a letter from an intelligent American at Buenos Ayres, to a gentleman in Lexington—dated March 3, 1818.

"We are here at last after a voyage of three months, having stopped ten days at Rio de Janeiro, and four at Monte Viedo. I wish I could give you a faithful transcript of the impressions made on my mind in the course of this interesting period of my life, but I regret that the limits of a letter will not allow me. The short time I have been here will not allow me to speak my opinion with perfect confidence on a variety of important topics; there are some however, on which I cannot be mistaken, although I must reserve for some opportunity, when I can have the pleasure of conversation with you, the account of the mode in which my opinions are formed.

On our arrival here, the English and Americans who crowded around us, (or they appeared at our Consul's very much mixed with each other) seemed to vie with each other in giving the most unfavorable accounts of the people and government of the country, but in the midst of their accounts they let out some things which to me spoke in their favor. On a more particular examination of the characters of the individuals who thus spoke, I found, in every instance, that circumstances existed which rendered there testimony suspicious. In casting my eyes around, I could very readily see the cause of their being despised by the British, for nothing is to be seen throughout the city, but the plainness and simplicity of republicanism. In the streets none but plain citizens, or republican soldiers, are to be seen; the latter having somewhat a militia appearance; but I did not like them the less on that account. I assure you, sir, notwithstanding the numerous acts of this government, which may be justly condemned, I feel myself here in a land of freedom and where an American will find more to remind him of his country, than in any government in the world. This is saying much, but it is no less true.

Our stay at Rio has been of infinite service to us, by furnishing our minds with a picture of despotism to contrast with the state of things at this place.—Yesterday a person gave me, as he thot, a most appalling description of the state of parties here, and with great confidence told me, that a portion of the people was in favor of this system, and another of a different one, &c. I put this simple question to him: "How is the public sentiment ascertained?" For this he was not prepared. I then told him that at Rio de Janeiro there was no parties: that the people neither spoke nor tho't of politics. An Englishman, expecting to raise contempt in my mind for a strapping fellow who passed by with a couple of epaulettes—that fellow, said he, a little while ago kept a grog shop—he is now a militia colonel! I told him, that in our country it was not uncommon to see Generals feeding hogs.

The proper mode of judging of these people is by looking at the past and the future; to see the advancement they have made, and what they will probably make. It is enough for the present that the spirit of liberty, the desire of independence, the desire for improvement, is deeply rooted, although perhaps badly directed. Even if they possessed the previous advantages that we had, it would be unfair to compare them with what we are now. It is admitted on all hands that their progress has been very considerable, and I see no reason why it will not continue. You once suggested to me the advantages they would derive from national songs—I find they have a number which are sung on all occasions; their sentiments are purely republican. This, together with the number of persons who are called forth from the most humble and obscure situations, to act considerable parts, surely must tend to elevate and enlighten. The number of persons, more or less connected with the civil and military, is necessarily great. Amongst the reproaches heaped on these people by strangers, what appeared to me very curious, I heard them reproached With national vanity! One of these patriots, I was told, declared that North America had produced but one WASHINGTON, while the South had produced a hundred! There is one thing universally admitted, and that is, the great equality existing throughout the society, an equality which has not been enforced, but exists in the same manner as in the United States. Here is certainly the basis on which to build a republican government. As I did not come here to look for miracles, I am not disappointed, with respect to the administration of the government, the state of finance, the irregularities of those in office, from the want of powers being properly defined, the deficiency in general knowledge, &c. these are topics upon which much may be justly said against the country. There is one thing certain, that all I have heard alleged against it, would have excited no particular attention at Rio, as being of course.

The shortness of the time which has elapsed since my arrival, will not enable me to say any thing worth writing down on the subject of the government. Its enemies call it a military republic, but I assure you it is nothing but a republic and I believe can be nothing else. The story of their wishing a king you may rely upon it, is absolutely ridiculous. In the vessel which brought us up from Monte Viedo, there were several persons in the lower walks of life who talked politics and sung their national song, something like our Hail Columbia.—These people who can hardly be presumed to speak any other than the sentiments of the hundreds, which compose the class of society in which they move, had quite as rational and as enthusiastical notions on the subject of government, as people of the same occupations and education in our own country. One of them told me that he thought Rousseau's Social Compact a visionary thing, but that Paine's Common Sense and Rights of Man were sober and rational productions. The priests are all natives, and all republicans. Their influence is much diminished—the younger part of the community are becoming perhaps, too careless on the subject of their religion.—There is no religious intolerance; every one is free to worship in his own way.

Our arrival, I am informed, has excited the most extravagant joy; to be noticed in any manner by a respectable government, and more particularly by us, whom they admire more than any people in the world, is highly gratifying. In the present state of the world, the feeling of one republican nation towards another republican nation, is not to be described, and cannot be known to kings and their servants. We have it in our power to direct and fix the destinies of a great people. Good Heaven! is it possible that our enlightened statesmen cannot lift up their minds to the magnitude of the subject?

With respect to the capacity of these people for defence against any force that can be sent against them, it is admitted by all. To any one who has been an hour on the spot, the attempt of Spain with the assistance of any nation in Europe, to subjugate them, must appear almost ridiculous, when we see that at Monte Viedo the whole Portuguese force is shut up by two hundred men.—Thirty thousand men can be brought to the defence of this capital, every house of which is a complete fortress. The difficulties of the navigation are also of such a nature as to render it difficult for any large body of troops to be transported with safety. The Portuguese are wasting their men and money in the most childish manner. Any one on the spot will see in five minutes that it is utterly impossible for them to make the slightest progress. The disputes between Artigas and this government, I will endeavour to explain when I shall become better acquainted with them.

The people here are under the impression, that England is only waiting for the United States to acknowledge Buenos Ayres, in order to follow the example.—The simple acknowledgement of these people will be productive of consequences of which you can scarcely form an idea. The importance attached to it by them, is such, that there is hardly a man who would not give almost half of what he is worth that it should take place. I do not hesitate to say, that the moment we acknowledge them, they will adopt every feature of our government and constitution, and such is the idea which they have of the justice, wisdom, and disinterestedness of our country, that they will be guided by our advice in every thing. I have not the least doubt that the commissioners will be applied to for the purpose of healing the civil dissentions which have existed between Artigas and this people. I assure you I am enthusiastic. I have good authority for what I state.

Women should be early taught to think highly of their sex, for pride often supports virtue.

Fan-Sash Making

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

November 27

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

Bath House.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, that his Bath House is now and will remain in complete operation until the 15th inst. at which time should a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained, it will be continued during the season, otherwise he will be under the necessity of closing it on that day. The experience of former years, he trusts, will be a satisfactory apology for so doing, as without sufficient patronage to meet the expenses thereof, he cannot continue the bath house without incurring certain loss.

Gentlemen disposed to encourage the establishment, will please to leave their names at his bar.

June 2 T. SHIELDS.

Absconded,

ON the night of the 16th inst. my negro man JOHN, or JOHN ALLEN, (as he calls himself)—he is well known, having lived with me for several years, and has travelled a good deal with me. He is a very plausible fellow, about 30 years of age, slender made, and about 5 feet 5 inches high, rather of a yellow complexion, but the complete negro mouth and nose—has a small scar on one of his cheeks—has lately had a sore on his right leg, directly on the shin bone, which leg has the appearance of being much scored at a former period by disease or the small pox. His hat was made and stamped by Rogers of Baltimore.—A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county of Alexandria, 20 if in the county of Washington or Fairfax, 50 if in Baltimore or state of Maryland, and 100 if in Philadelphia or the state of Pennsylvania, and in like proportion if at any other places, with all reasonable charges for bringing him here and securing him in jail.

May 18 JAMES SANDERSON

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
